TOP PERFORMANCE
IN COMPACT DIMENSIONS

N&W AND NECTA: A LONG HISTORY OF TECHNOLOGICAL EXCELLENCE.

N&W's success in the Ho.Re.Ca. marketplace can be traced back to the late '60's, when Zanussi Grandi Impianti launched a range of automatic machines and coffee dispensers that met with immediate acclaim for their excellent performance and innovative design.

Subsequently, the business was acquired and then, in the late '90's, sold by Electrolux; at which point the company was renamed Necta. Later, a merger with Danish company Wittenborg added the 'W' to the 'N' and the N&W Group emerged. Since then the company has become a leading multi-national, with a presence in more than 100 countries. Moreover, N&W relies on a carefully selected sales network and on efficient after-sales services.

When it comes to coffee, the Necta brand is synonymous with quality, and that's hardly surprising. Designed and built in Italy, Necta super automatic machines reflect the Italians' passion for coffee by delivering an authentic taste of *cultura del caffè italiano - Italian coffee culture. Add to this heritage a commitment to constant research, development and improvement and you have the recipe for Necta's success.

N&W has been awarded three internationally recognised certificates relating to corporate management systems: one in regard to quality (UNI EN ISO 9001:2015); one in regard to environment performance (UNI EN ISO 14001:2015) and the third one (BS OHSAS 18001:2007) in regard to Health & Safety on working place.

Additionally, Necta machines have IMQ product certification, awarded by the Italian Quality Trademark Institute, your guarantee that every single product manufactured fulfils the safety requirements of electrical home appliances, as well as those for commercial dispensers.

This machine contains a steam pressure boiler and is subject to PSSR certification (for the UK market only). This requires an inspection on a 14 month repeating basis by a competent person.

KARISMA IS NOT LIKE ITALIAN COFFEE,
IT IS ITALIAN COFFEE - AT ITS VERY BEST.

Why settle for a machine that mimics Italian taste when you can have one that delivers the genuine article? Necta machines are conceived, designed and built by people who are their own fiercest critics, in a land where coffee consumption is an intrinsic, almost sacramental element of everyday life.

Karisma is a triumphant combination of taste, design and engineering that delivers the perfect espresso; the building block of all Italian coffees. Then, by varying combinations of fresh steamed milk and froth, Karisma delivers the world's favourite coffee-shop specialties, such as latte and cappuccino - and all at the touch of a button.

KARISMA:
